

OLIVE BRANCH OF 'LONG PAT' ROUSES WRATH AT FEAST

Report of Harmony Overtures Turns Antis' Dinner Into a Bedlam.

CHARGES OF TREACHERY

Coler, and Others Declare
Peace Can Never Come With McCarren In.

The festive frivols of the wild steer that got into the glassware weren't a circumstance to what happened at an early hour to-day, when news reached the dinner of the anti-McCarrenites that "Long Pat" wanted to extend the olive branch.

In a moment there was bedlam. Earlier in the evening, after the annual dinner of the Kings County Democratic Club, the anti-McCarren wing of the organization, began at the Assembly, Fulton and Pierpont streets, the orchestra was cheered when it played "Tammany."

But when some one came in with the blithesome tidings that McCarren was willing to sue for peace, and John D. Delaney, chairman, told the thousand present about it, pandemonium broke loose, and there were cries of "Treacher!" on all sides. Apparently there was a general belief that it was a Tammany scheme.

There was nothing before the assembly except an unofficial report that the McCarren men had appointed a committee of five to try to bring about harmony between the two factions, but ex-Warden Patrick Hayes offered a motion to submit whatever proposals were made to the Executive Committee of the anti-McCarren branch.

"A Drunken Riot." This is what caused the trouble. Many of those present have been fighting McCarren tooth and nail for years, and feel that they have got things in shape for victory.

George M. Curtis, of the Eighth Assembly district, jumped on a chair, and offering an amendment to the motion, roundly denounced McCarren and declared that nothing would suffice but the Brooklyn leader's withdrawal from politics. Bird S. Coler also delivered a scathing talk against McCarren, and denounced any condition or circumstance that would make treating with McCarren possible or expedient. Finally he walked out of the meeting before it was over. By this time men were on chairs, tables, and in the middle of the floor, waving their hands excitedly, turning over glassware and all trying to talk at once, and many assuming a belligerent attitude. Delaney tried to calm the storm by refusing to recognize any one, but his efforts were not very successful, and finally he is alleged to have shouted:

"Gentlemen, this is getting to be a riot—a drunken riot." Finally the Hayes motion was carried and things calmed down, but it seemed plain that there will be no peace as long as McCarren is at the head of the organization.

The Olive Branch. All this happened within a few blocks of Thomas Jefferson Hall, where a short time before Senator McCarren and the County Committee made their move toward harmony by adopting this resolution, offered by Senator McCarren: "Resolved, that a committee of five be appointed by the Chairman of this organization to receive any committee from any body or organization that is desirous of promoting the success of our party and producing harmonious action among the Democrats of Kings County." The resolution was adopted unanimously. Chairman Bell appointed this committee: Thomas F. Wogan, of the Seventh Assembly District; Thomas B. Farrell, of the Tenth; Owen J. Murphy, of the Thirteenth; Thomas F. Byrne, of the Eleventh; and Henry Hesterberg, of the Eighteenth. Farrell and Byrne are the anti-McCarrenites on the committee. Senator McCarren was not made a member at its request. The anti-McCarren branch of the Kings County Democratic General Committee re-elected George V. S. Williams chairman, and these other officers were chosen: Vice-Chairman, Francis D. Thorne and Mitchell May; treasurer, Michael Bloom; secretaries, Herman Lehman and Thomas Horgan.

It's Dangerous!

Adversity is a coward. He seeks his prey in darksome corners, in out-of-the-way places—anywhere, in fact, where chance or risk deceives the unsuspecting or foolhardy to leave the well-beaten paths of sound business judgment.

During the last two week days The World has printed 6,211 separate want-fulfilling advertisements—2,510 more than the Herald or any other newspaper in America.

Keep in the light shed by World advertisements and adversity will shrink away before it your enemies of perilous and soundness of judgment.

POLICE CLUB BROKE COLUMBIA MAN'S NOSE

Victim and Four Others Arrested for Trying to Get Into Dance Hall.

Five students of Columbia were arrested at the Riverside Casino, a dance hall, in One Hundred and Tenth street, near Amsterdam avenue, at midnight, and later arraigned in the Night Court, charged with disorderly conduct.

According to the police, the Columbia freshmen had a smoker at the "Widow Clemons," a roadhouse, at One Hundred and Eleventh street and Riverside Drive, last evening. About midnight fifty of them started down to the Casino, and fifteen had gone in when Special Officer McEntee tried to stop the others.

They resisted this and a fight followed. Patrolman Manning and Bicycle Policeman Brennan came to the help of McEntee, and five of the students were arrested. The policemen used their night sticks and three of the students appeared in court with bruises, and one who gave his name as "Chick" Gordon, of Hartley Hall, Columbia, had his nose broken. The others gave their names as Herbert Parker, Henry Welher, Edward Taylor and Robert Sweetwell, and all were discharged.

"MAJOR" CURTIS DEAD.

"Major" Curtis, who had been staying at the Bellevue Hotel, No. 240 Bowers, off and on, for ten years, was taken with a violent fit of coughing at 2 P. M. yesterday and died.

According to patrons of the Bellevue, the Major was about seventy-four years old, a civil war veteran, and lived at one time in a soldiers' home in Maine. He never talked much about himself, and his friends thought he did not register at the hotel in his right name. It was understood that he had a daughter in this city. His body was taken to the Morgue.

How to Reduce Fat Proportionately

Proportion is the thing. A fat woman years to reduce her abdomen, but she doesn't want to produce a scrawny neck. This fact condemns the dieting method of reducing. You can't starve the fat off one place and not off another. Simply impossible. But why try dieting, or even exercising, when there is a better way of reducing fat than either?

Try the following: One-half ounce Marmola, 15 ounces Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 15 ounces Peppermint Water. Any druggist will fill the above cheaply. Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime and see if in a few weeks you are not losing about a pound of fat a day—not from places where you are normally plump, but from those that are overly fat. The receipt works like a charm. I am told, and though it produces delightfully apparent results, yet it is perfectly harmless. Doesn't even cause wrinkles, they say who have used it, nor interfere with one's diet, which are two other exclusive and important differences it possesses over all other fat reducers I ever heard of. Instead of being harmful, in fact, as so many of the advertised remedies are, it improves the health and appetite and complexion.

HAVE YOU PLAYED THE LATEST GAME?

It's "GUESS" by name and guess by nature. Further than that, it's about the jolliest, most interesting and instructive game that the ingenuity of man has ever contrived—just the thing for winter evenings. Be sure and play it to-night.

RULES:

Provide each contestant with a copy of The World Almanac and Encyclopedia for 1909, of which 200,000 copies have been distributed during the last two weeks. In this "Wonderful Book About Wonderful Things" you will find more than 15,000 facts and figures bearing on names, dates, persons, places, weights, measures, records, areas, populations, exports, imports, duties, immigration, politics, and, in fact, nearly everything under the sun that one ought to know.

Turn to the index of this greatest of all Ready Reference Books and decide upon some one of the hundreds of topics referred to there as the special field of knowledge to be investigated. Let each person study the information presented under this particular caption for, say, five minutes.

Now, let everybody place their copy of The World Almanac for 1909 before them, closed, of course, and:

FIRST—Let each contestant write a short essay upon the subject in question, limited in length to about 200 words. OR:

SECOND—Appoint one of the party as QUESTIONER, who will ask 50 or 100 questions, the answers of which will, of course, be found in The World Almanac. Score should be kept and prizes awarded according to the best records made.

The game of "GUESS" is as fascinating as it is instructive. Try it after dinner to-night. Invite your friends in. Better still, get up a "GUESS" party and make a "hit."

The World Almanac and Encyclopedia for 1909, a volume of 880 pages, has just been placed on sale. It is strictly up-to-date, containing records and events of 1908, as well as for years gone by.
